The NatWest Bond invested three years ago in the sum of £250,000 has now matured together with associated interest of £28,000. On maturity the monies were transferred to a reserve account with NatWest where there was no mandate authority set up. For ease of setting up a new mandate current NatWest account holders were recommended to save the identification process. As it is a condition of setting up the new mandate to have it minuted a resolution is therefore required to accept Andrew Coates and David Worden as authorised signatories purely to transfer the existing balance on the reserve account back into our Lloyds Business Account.
